

MURRAY M'CONNEL, OF CUNO ENGINEERING

Special to The New York Times.

HARTFORD, April 9—Murray McConnel of Farmington, Conn., an industrialist who was deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency in 1951, died today at Hartford Hospital. He was 65 years old.

Mr. McConnel was a former president of the Cuno Engineering Corporation, and since 1960 had been chairman of the board. He was a director and member of the executive committee of American Machine and Foundry in New York.

He was employed by J. G. White & Co. in New York from 1926 to 1931 and from 1937 to 1944. He was the company's vice president and a director between 1939 and 1944.

He was a former member of the Armed Forces Advisory Committee for Greater New York and was a member of the Board of Finance for the city of Stamford.

Mr. McConnel was a member of the Metropolitan Club in Washington and the Hartford Club.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Helen Matthew McConnel; three sons, Stephen, Matthew and Murray Jr., and two grandchildren.

CPYRGHT